THE UNIVERSITY

Sonoma State University is one of the 23 campuses of the California State University. Located in the Sonoma County wine country, 48 miles north of San Francisco, the University has an enrollment of approximately 9,000 students. As of spring 2014, the University had 595 faculty with 41% tenure-track. The University is comprised of six schools: Arts and Humanities, Business and Economics, Education, Extended and International Education, Social Sciences, and Science and Technology. Degrees are offered in 46 majors at the bachelor's level and 15 at the master's level. Sonoma State University occupies 274 acres in the beautiful wine country of Sonoma County, in Northern California. Located at the foot of the Sonoma hills, the campus is just an hour’s drive north of San Francisco and 40 minutes away from the Pacific Ocean.

THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Business Administration at Sonoma State University offers high-quality, relevant education in business to aspiring and practicing professionals, managers, and entrepreneurs in the private and public sectors. It does this in a liberal arts and sciences environment in which faculty emphasize the development and continuous improvement of the skills of critical thinking, effective communication, ethical reasoning, maintaining a global perspective, and applying disciplinary tools. The department offers programs of study leading to both the Bachelor of Science (BSBA) and Master of Business Administration (MBA) degrees. The BSBA program offers concentrations in accounting, finance, financial management, management, marketing, and wine business strategies. The graduate program includes a professional MBA, a wine business MBA, and an executive MBA.

Prospective applicants are encouraged to visit the School of Business and Economics web page at: www.sonom.edu/sbe/.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION

The standard teaching load for this position is 12 units per semester, normally comprised of three 4-unit courses. The candidate is required to engage in scholarly activity including publication in refereed journals. The successful candidate will be required to teach courses in Entrepreneurship and at least one other area of Business Administration at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Service activities will primarily address the development of relationships with various campus stakeholders in order to support innovative and entrepreneurial activities across campus, as well as the development of relationships with interested stakeholders in the external community who are willing to support innovation and entrepreneurship activities on campus.

In addition to teaching and scholarship, faculty are expected to engage in academic advising, to assist the department with program assessment, administrative and/or committee work, and to serve on campus-wide committees. Sonoma State is committed to the Teacher/Scholar model and places an emphasis on faculty support of undergraduate research. Faculty are also encouraged to participate in Freshman and Sophomore year programs when available in their schools.

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

To be recommended for appointment, the candidate must have an earned Ph.D in Business Administration or a related field or a D.B.A. (Doctorate in Business Administration) from an accredited institution. Strong preference will be given to candidates who have earned the doctoral degree from institutions accredited by either the AACSB or EQUIS, or subsequent matriculation in an AACSB doctoral level bridge program for candidates whose doctorate is not in an area of Business Administration.

The successful candidate should have significant scholarly activity in entrepreneurship or innovation. Strong preference will be given to candidates who have significant graduate level preparation in entrepreneurship and one additional area of business administration, professional experience in a field related to a business administration discipline, experience building institutional cross-disciplinary relationships and relationships with external community stakeholders, and demonstrated teaching success at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

To be recommended for tenure, the candidate must demonstrate satisfactory performance in four areas: teaching effectiveness; scholarship, research, creative achievement and professional development; service to the University; and public service and service to the community. Although tenure may be granted at any time, contract provisions specify that "the normal period of probation shall be a total of six (6) years of full-time probationary service and credited service, if any. Any deviation from the normal six (6) year probationary period shall be the decision of the President following his/her consideration of recommendations from the department or equivalent unit and appropriate administrator(s).” Tenure is required for promotion above the level of Associate Professor.
