OUR COMMITMENT

Guided by our core values, Sonoma State University offers an exceptional educational experience that fosters intellectual, cognitive, social, and personal growth. As the only member of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges in California, we are uniquely positioned to foster ethical exploration, civic engagement, social responsibility, and global awareness combined with a solid foundation in an academic discipline. We have a strong commitment to graduating students who have the ability to think critically and communicate effectively in an ever-changing world. The unique campus culture fosters our Seawolf Commitment to integrity, respect, excellence, and responsibility and is integrated into all campus life. We nurture inclusive excellence through a celebration of the rich diversity of our local communities and our interconnected global economy. Members of the University community are expected to work effectively with faculty, staff, and students from diverse ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds. SSU is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service.

THE UNIVERSITY

Sonoma State University's beautiful 274-acre campus is located in Sonoma County wine country, an hour north of San Francisco. The campus offers the ideal setting for teaching and learning and access to a community of rich cultural, environmental, and recreational opportunities. Founded in 1960, Sonoma State University is one of the 23 campuses of the California State University System. As members of the largest public higher educational system in the nation, we provide accessible, high quality education to more than 9000 students. Sonoma State University is proud to be a Hispanic Serving Institution committed to achieving the goals of equal opportunity and endeavors to employ faculty and staff reflecting the ethnic and cultural diversity of the region and state.

FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES

In addition to teaching and scholarship, faculty are expected to engage in service to the department, school, and community. Sonoma State is committed to the Teacher/Scholar model and places an emphasis on faculty support of undergraduate research. Faculty are also encouraged to participate in our distinctive, high-impact Freshman and Sophomore year programs and to foster our commitment to the CSU Graduation Initiative 2025 through excellent teaching, advising, and mentoring. Potential applicants are encouraged to review the University's Reappointment, Tenure and Promotion Policy. All faculty are required to have the ability to work effectively in a multicultural environment.

THE DEPARTMENT

The Criminology and Criminal Justice Department at Sonoma State offers a unique curriculum that provides students with a deep theoretical understanding of the criminal justice world and the strong critical thinking skills that are needed to compete in today's job market. We currently serve a diverse undergraduate population with 350 majors, consisting of almost 40% minorities. Our graduates continue to work in fields beyond criminal justice, with many going on to law school, graduate school, and a variety of both governmental and non-governmental organizations.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION

The CCJS Department seeks a broadly trained person in the interdisciplinary field of criminology and criminal justice. We are interested in candidates who can teach in the area of corrections and/or policing. Special consideration will be given to candidates who can add to the department's offerings in social justice. Candidates will be expected to teach the department's introductory course on criminology and public policy, as well as contribute to academic advising for our undergraduate majors.

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

To be recommended for appointment, the candidate must have:

A Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice, sociology, or a related field is required by the time of appointment. A J.D. is not sufficient for this position. Candidates must demonstrate active involvement in the discipline of criminology and criminal justice studies, superior undergraduate teaching skills or the potential for them, and the ability to relate to a diverse student body.

RANK AND SALARY

Salary and service credit depends upon academic preparation and professional experience. The salary for this position is $74,200.
