THE UNIVERSITY

Sonoma State University is one of the 23 campuses of the California State University. Located in the Sonoma County wine country, 48 miles north of San Francisco, the University has an enrollment of approximately 9,000 students. As of spring 2013, the University had 497 faculty with 47% tenure-track. The University is comprised of six schools: Arts and Humanities, Business and Economics, Education, Extended and International Education, Social Sciences, and Science and Technology. Degrees are offered in 45 majors at the bachelor’s level and 16 at the master’s level. Sonoma State University occupies 274 acres in the beautiful wine country of Sonoma County, in Northern California. Located at the foot of the Sonoma hills, the campus is just an hour’s drive north of San Francisco and 40 minutes away from the Pacific Ocean.

THE DEPARTMENT

The Political Science Department offers a 40 semester unit Bachelor’s Degree in Political Science. It also offers a Masters in Public Administration (M.P.A.), as well as preparation for California State teaching credentials, the law and service in the public, private and nonprofit sectors.

Prospective applicants are encouraged to peruse the department’s Web page at www.sonoma.edu/polisci.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION

The Political Science Department of Sonoma State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant or associate professorship to teach graduate courses in Public Administration and undergraduate courses in American Government including introductory courses in American Government. Applicants who can also teach upper division and graduate courses in American and/or public policy are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will also be expected to teach Research Methods, move easily between graduate and undergraduate populations, and will fill the role of Graduate Coordinator of the Masters in Public Administration (MPA) Program for a specified term of assignment. Candidates with a record of scholarly activity with students and a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse populations are encouraged to apply.

In addition to teaching and scholarship, faculty are expected to engage in academic advising, to assist the department with program assessment, administrative and/or committee work, and to serve on campus-wide committees. Sonoma State is committed to the Teacher/Scholar model and places an emphasis on faculty support of undergraduate research. Faculty are also encouraged to participate in Freshman and Sophomore year programs when available in their schools.
PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

To be recommended for appointment, the candidate must have:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is desired. Applicants with a doctorate in Public Policy or Public Administration will also be considered. A Ph.D. or equivalent degree from an accredited institution of higher education is required by August 15th, 2015. Evidence of successful teaching experience and scholarship are required.

To be recommended for tenure, the candidate must demonstrate satisfactory performance in four areas: teaching effectiveness; scholarship, research, creative achievement and professional development; service to the University; and public service and service to the community. Although tenure may be granted at any time, contract provisions specify that "the normal period of probation shall be a total of six (6) years of full-time probationary service and credited service, if any. Any deviation from the normal six (6) year probationary period shall be the decision of the President following his/her consideration of recommendations from the department or equivalent unit and appropriate administrator(s).” Tenure is required for promotion above the level of Associate Professor.

RANK AND SALARY

The position is at the rank of Assistant Professor, tenure-track or Associate Professor without tenure. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Salary is subject to budgetary authorization and any California State University System faculty contract increases. Additional teaching in summer and intersession is available. An excellent comprehensive benefits package is available which includes medical, dental and vision insurance and a CalPERS retirement plan.
