

Possible contributions of CSU-ERFA members at their home campuses. These are illustrative of the many ways in which retired faculty and staff have been or might be of assistance to their campuses:

- 1. Serving on search committees
- 2. Serving on advisor boards
- 3. Serving on graduate theses committees
- 4. Tutoring students in their discipline
- 5. Substituting as lecturers in classes when regular faculty are ill or attending conferences
- 6. Advising students on curriculum choices
- 7. Assisting in the campus library
- 8. Assisting in the career center
- 9. Serving on committees revising campus policies and procedures
- 10. Serving on ad hoc committees appointed by a Dean, Provost or President
- 11. Outreach to the community through Life-Long Learning Programs.
- 12. Contacting legislators or other officials supporting campus initiatives
- 13. Serving as retiree member of the Faculty Senate
- 14. Aiding the athletic program by serving as umpires, referees, etc in intramural programs
- 15. Serving as investigator on campus discipline and/or grievance cases
- 16. Serving on committees that select student scholarship recipients
- 17. Enriching the intellectual enterprise of the university through continued research, scholarship, creative activities, and writing, often in collaboration with active faculty and students
- 18. Co-sponsoring and leading international conferences on literary, social, scientific, and other issues
- 19. Other [Please specify]