Bioarchaeology
Field School
Petra, Jordan
June 26 - August 4, 2014

COURSES:
ANTH 4201
Mortuary Archaeology
(3 credit hours)

ANTH 4203
Bioarchaeological Field Methods
(3 credit hours)

CONTACT:
Prof. Megan A. Perry
Dept. of Anthropology
perrym@ecu.edu
1-252-328-9434

For more information and application materials, go to:
http://www.ecu.edu/cs-acad/summerabroad/For-Students.cfm

Application deadline: January 31, 2014

Join our multidisciplinary team in 2014 to explore 2,000 year old tombs in the ancient capital city of Petra, a UNESCO World Heritage site recently voted one of the “Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.”

Petra, known for its rock-cut tomb facades and magnificent temples, was a major trade center for incense and spices and became an important city in the Roman empire. Petra is located in Jordan, a stable, moderate pro-western Arab state with an astounding cultural heritage. Students will have opportunities to visit other cultural sites in Jordan.

Cost: Estimated at $3440 includes:
• Application fee ($75)
• Tuition for six credits
• Accommodation in Petra
• Three meals per day, six days per week in Petra
• International accident/health insurance coverage

Airfare, visa fees, and personal expenses are not included.