Notes:

GE courses have no permanent restrictions, but may have restrictions in a given term for enrollment management purposes.

Experimental courses are not included in the permanent catalog. They may be offered twice only on an experimental basis. They will be picked up by the ARR as sociology electives for both the old and new version of the major. They are not programmed into the ARR as meeting a substantive area for students in the old version of the major, but can be added to an area with an ARR change form.

Special Topics courses (SOCI 497) are not programmed into the ARR as meeting a substantive area for students in the old version of the major, but can be added to an area with an ARR change form.
